WAIPU

Ref: <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Waipu>

Waipu is a small town in Bream Bay, in the Northland Region of New Zealand, with a Scottish heritage. The population was 1,491 in the 2006 Census, an increase of 222 from 2001. A highlight of the town's calendar is the annual Highland Games held at New Year. In Waipu town itself, a visit to the Waipu Museum is a must! (See Page 11). Just outside the town are the Waipu Caves, which contain a significant population of glowworms.

HISTORY

Waipu was the centre of a significant Presbyterian settlement led by Rev. Norman McLeod, a Presbyterian Minister who led his people from the Highlands of Scotland to New Zealand via St. Ann's, Nova Scotia and Australia. Five shiploads containing over 800 settlers arrived at Waipu in the 1850s. For more details about the original European settlers, see the Rev. Norman McLeod entry.

In 1914, a railway branch line from the North Auckland Line was surveyed to Waipu to serve agricultural activity in the area. Construction of the line was delayed due to World War I, but by 1920, 25 men were employed in the construction of formation. However, by 1924, private motor vehicles were becoming more common and railway lines to lowly populated rural areas accordingly became less necessary. Due to the lack of significant industrial activity in the Waipu area, the branch line was no longer seen as economic and construction was cancelled before any rail tracks were laid. However, a new railway line, the Marsden Point Branch, is currently proposed for construction and will follow a route similar to that of the abortive Waipu line.

EDUCATION

Waipu School is a coeducational contributing primary (years 1-6) school with a decile rating of 7 and a roll of 206.

Schools were formed in the Waipu area at Waipu Cove, Bream Tail, Waipu Centre, The Braigh, North River and Waipu Cove. The schools at Bream Tail and Waipu Caves closed before 1930. The remaining schools, and one at Mata north of Ruakaka, were consolidated into Waipu District High School in 1940, which provided both primary and secondary education on a single site on St Mary's Road. Ruakaka School was originally intended to be included in the consolidation, but residents of Ruakaka resisted. In 1956, the secondary department moved to a new site in Argyle Street, although some secondary classes remained at the original site. By the late 1960s, Waipu was the largest District High School in the country and had inadequate facilities. The school was split at the beginning of 1972 to form the new Bream Bay College and Waipu Primary, with the high school shifting to new premises at Ruakaka in 1974. The primary school moved to the Argyle Street site.

MARSDEN BAY

Ref: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Marsden_Bay,_New_Zealand

Marsden Bay is a locality and bay at the south head of Whangarei Harbour in Northland, New Zealand. The western side of Marsden Bay is a coastal community called One Tree Point, and the eastern side is the industrial development of Marsden Point. Ruakaka lies about 9 km to the south.

HISTORY

One Tree Point was called "Single Tree Point" by Captain Lort Stokes of the Acheron in 1849.

The town of Marsden, situated where Marsden Point is now, was originally intended to be the commercial centre for the district, due to the access to deep water, and because it was closer to Auckland than the area which is now Whangarei. The government purchased 200 acres (81 ha) on the point in the mid 1850s and laid it out in quarter-acre sections. The development of the kauri gum industry changed the focus of settlement to Whangarei. The Marsden Point oil refinery was built in the 1960s and expanded in the 1980s.

EDUCATION

One Tree Point School is a coeducational contributing primary (years 1-6) school with a decile rating of 4 and a roll of 181. The school was established in 1972.

RUAKAKA

Ref: <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ruakaka>

Ruakaka is a small township in the North of New Zealand approximately 30 kilometres south of Whangarei. Originally a small beachside community, Ruakaka has seen development due to its proximity to the expansion of the country's only oil refinery at Marsden Point during the 1980s. A recently established timber processing plant at Marsden Point has further stimulated growth. The population of the Marsden Point-Ruakaka statistical area was 2,913 in the 2006 Census, an increase of 255 from 2001.

NAMING

Ruakaka is a combination of the two words "Rua" and "Kaka". Rua is a Maori word for two and Kaka is a native parrot (Nestor meridionalis).

HISTORY

The area of Ruakaka is located in Bream Bay which was named by Captain Cook during his first voyage to New Zealand when he visited the region on 25 November 1769. It was named due to the ease of capture of 90-100 bream fish soon after anchoring.

EDUCATION

Bream Bay College is a secondary (years 7-15) school with a roll of 457.

Ruakaka School is a contributing primary (years 1-6) school. It has a roll of 127. Both schools are coeducational and have a decile rating of 4. Ruakaka School opened in 1898 in North Ruakaka. Until 1916 it was a half-time school sharing a teacher with Mata School. The school moved to its present site in 1912. Bream Bay College started in 1972 as a Form 3-7 (years 9-13) school on the site of Waipu District High School. It moved to Ruakaka in February 1974 and expanded to include Forms 1 and 2 (years 7-8).

BEACHES

The bay has beautiful sandy white beaches looking out towards the Hen and Chicken Islands and Sail Rock.

GEOGRAPHY

DISTRICTS

The general area is made up of Ruakaka Beach, Ruakaka Township and Marsden Point. Other Bream Bay localities such as One Tree Point, Takahiwai and even Waipu are often included in general conversation regarding the area. (Latitude -35.8833, Longitude 174.4000)

Ruakaka Beach.

Ruakaka Beach lies near the mouth of the Ruakaka River which boasts a rare bird reserve and popular summer camping ground. It is primarily a residential area made up of a mixture of permanent homes and beach shacks.

Pictured above: Fishing at Uretiti Beach

The Ruakaka Township was developed off the back of the Marsden Point Oil Refinery expansion in the 1980's where services were required to support the large influx of workers from all over the world involved in the project. A government requirement for a percentage of revenue invested in the project to be spent on the local community allowed for provision of services not common in communities this size (eg. Squash courts, sports grounds).

The Marsden Point Village was built to support the Marsden Power Stations (A & B) which have since been decommissioned. The area is now promoted as beachside living.

CLIMATE

The region's geographical location results in warm humid summers and mild winters. Typical summer temperatures range from 22 °C to 26 °C (72 °F to 79 °F). Ground frosts are virtually unknown. The hottest months are January and February. Typical annual rainfall for the region is 1500 – 2000 mm. Winds year-round are predominantly from the southwest.

ATTRACTIONS & LANDMARKS

The following is a list of tourist attractions and landmarks in the Ruakaka Local Area.

- Ruakaka Race Course
- New Zealand Oil Refinery Visitors Centre
- Waipu Golf Course (Pictured right)
- Waipu Pizza Barn
- The Shearing Shed
- Ruakaka Kitesports

RAILWAY PROPOSAL

A branch line railway to Marsden Point from Oakleigh on the North Auckland Line has recently been proposed. This Marsden Point Branch will primarily serve freight interests, but the Northland Regional Land Transport Committee has suggested that passenger trains for commuters between Ruakaka and Whangarei are a long-term option.

ACTIVITIES

BEACHES

- Eyres Point, Mangawhai
A few kilometers past Pacific Beach turn off to the left. BBQ and picnic table areas
- Mangawhai Pacific Beach
First road left after the Mangawhai school. Toilets and picnic tables
- Mangawhai Estuary
Mangawhai estuary is bordered by a dunefield which changes constantly. The dunes and coastal foreshore are sites of numerous middens shell and refuse heaps. The oldest middens contain bones of the forest birds now extinct in the area, Maori axes and other artifacts have also been found. The estuary is safe for swimming, but watch out for the outgoing tide near the mouth of the harbour. For the fishers, the estuary provides mullet, parore, flounder, sprat, the occasional pan sized snapper and kahawai. There are cockles on the estuary mudflats and pipi further up the harbour. Limit 150 per person.
- Mangawhai Heads Ocean Beach
Nice surf beach with surf patrol & flags in season. Toilets and change room facilities.
- Langs Beach
Nice surf beach, with lovely pohutukawa trees along the edge. Toilets and change shed at the southern end of beach in car parking area. It is safe for family swimming, and you may even spy some dolphins.
- Waipu Cove
Open surf beach (pictured left) which is patrolled in season, toilets, change shed, takeaways and dairy nearby. Lovely river on the southern end which is great for the children to swim in. Across the river and over the hill is shelly bay, a small bay with shells rather than sand.
- Uretiti Beach
Approx. 5kms north of Waipu. Good surfcasting, swimming, body surfing. Not patrolled. Campsite operated by DOC.
- Ruakaka Beach
Long open beach. Surf patrolled in season. Changing room and toilets. Playground area for the kids.

WALKS & OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES

➤ Pancake rocks (pictured below)

A short track South of Waipu Cove. Cross the stream on the southern end of the beach, follow the path through the gate and take the upper track. Follow this for about 15-20mins and you come to an impressive pancake rock structure fringed by ancient pohutukawa trees. The track crosses private land, so please leave only footprints.

➤ Piroa Falls

➤ Brynderwyn Walkway

Access to this walkway can be gained from State Highway 1 (approx 1 mile north of Dargarville turn-off) or from Massey and Cullens Road at Waipu. It is worth noting that unless you retrace your steps, a car is required at the exit points on these walks. It takes approx 4.5 – 5 hours to walk from State Highway 1 to the exit on the Mangawhai-Langs Beach Road.

Part of the Brynderwyn Walkway

- Drives – Waipu Heritage Trail
A trail which points out all the historical places in the area. You can purchase this map from the Waipu Heritage Centre in Waipu for $5.
- Mangawhai Cliffs Walk
Walk begins along Ocean Beach from the Surf Club. Spectacular views of the Hen and chicken Islands and a beautiful beach at the northern end provides a great spot to picnic, swim, or snorkel. The walk is about three hours play along the way. Most of the track crosses private farmland. Please treat the property and stock with respect. The walkway is closed for lambing 30 June to 1 October.

Piroa Falls

- Mangawhai Forestry Block
There are two loops tracks in the Mangawhai Forestry Block. One takes you south down the beach and back through the forest around Lake Tomarata to the carpark. The other loop is from the Pacific Recreation Area, along forestry roads to the north to a huge sand dune and the wildlife refuge. The return walk is back along the beach to the carpark. Entry to the forest beyond designated points requires permission from Woodhill Forest Headquarters who administer the forest. Mangawhai Forest was originally planted to stabilize drifting sands and prevent them spreading onto neighbouring farms, timber was a secondary bonus.
- Mangawhai Look Out Walkway (By the golf club)
Take the boardwalk alongside the information map on Molesworth Drive adjacent to the golf club. Panoramic views over the golf course, Mangawhai Heads area and surrounding district from East to West Coast. An easy ten minutes.

Mangawhai Beach

- Mangawhai Surf Beach Walk
To the right behind the Surf club is a path to the top of a hill, with an amazing vantage point. This is a good short walk which gives you a bearing on your location.
- McKenzie Walking Track
One hour each way. Pastoral and sea views. Starts near the Waipu caves.

North Island Pohutukawa Tree

- Robert Hastie Walkway
This walk begins on the road to Langs Beach about 10mins drive from Mangawhai Heads. Excellent views of Marsden Point Oil Refinery, Hen & Chicken Islands and the surrounding countryside. Allow 1 hour to reach the trig point.
- Ruakaka Estuary Walk
Start at Surf Club at low tide. Walk north toward the Power Station. Turn in at the river mouth and follow around. Come out through Reserve Camp. Stay on shore line or tracks. Please do not disturb native birds.

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES

- Fishing
Bream Bay and Mangawhai have great shore and boat fishing, as well as diving. The concrete boat ramp at the end of Alamar-Crescent in Mangawhai can be used at all times. Waipu Boat Club have a boat ramp (on Nova Scotia Drive), and both Waipu and Langs have boat ramps.
- Bird Refuge in Mangawhai
The sand dune is an internationally recognized wildlife refuge for four species of threatened birds, the Fairy Tern, Banded Dotterel, Variable Oystercatcher and Caspian-Tern. Care must be taken during the summer nesting season by those people interested in bird watching.
- Waipu Horse Rides
Experience an unforgettable few hours, riding along a spectacular beach, or across farmland and an historical Pa site. Your seasoned host and his friendly horses will make it a ride to remember. We will customzie the ride to suit you and we cater for the novice and experienced rider. Tel: (09) 432 0430
- Ruakaka Wildlife Refuge
At the Ruakaka River Mouth. This is a breeding area for New Zealand Dotterel and Variable Oyster Catchers.
- Swimming and Surfing
Body surfing, boogie-boarding, and surfing are generally pretty good in the area, but this relies on the swell and the wind. Visit www.surflifesaving.org.nz or call the Waipu Cove Surf Life Saving club (09) 432 0564

- Diving
Coastal diving around Bream Tail is ideal for spearfishing and crayfishing. McGregor Rock off Bream Tail sits in 27m of water rising within 11m of the surface.

PLACES OF INTEREST

MT MANAIA

Mount Manaia is located at Taurikura Bay, Whangarei Heads, which lies just east of Whangarei City. You can park in the Manaia Club's lower car park. The main track begins just above the car park. The walking track is 3.5km and takes approx 1 hr 30 hr to summit or 2 hr 30 min - 3 hr return to carpark. Mount Manaia is one of a cluster of jagged, bush-covered hills that make the area one of the most dramatic harbour entrances in New Zealand.

WAIPU CAVES

Located 16km north west of Waipu. Turn onto shoemaker Road and continue for approximately 6kms until Waipu Caves signs. Follow these signs exactly until you come to a Road Closed Sign. Some few kms later are houses. Start looking on the right for the DOC sign marking the caves and the Mackenzie Walkway. Entrance to the Caves and the walkway are at your own risk. They are on private property. Please respect the owners and past owners of these sacred sites. Good footwear and torches are essential in the caves. Watch your head! Exceptional limestone formations and glow worms. If you go by yourself, be sure to tell someone your plans. There are approximately 300 metres of explored passageways in the Caves. The main cave is about 175metres in length and contains one of the longest stalagmites (pictured above) in New Zealand which is eight feet high and six feet in diameter at the base.

The Beach House

Welcome to Waipu Cove's best kept secret, this stunning new restaurant is located behind Waipu Cove Resort. The Beach House Restaurant is open Wednesday to Friday 6:00 pm till late. Saturday and Sunday 9:30 am till late.
